

Live Usability Evaluation of Corzine and Forrester Websites

UsabilityNJ ● Piscataway, NJ USA

November 3, 2005 ● 7pm ● CoRE Building, Rutgers

What: A demonstration of why usability of open information is a key to democracy.

When: November 3, 2005, starting at 7 PM

Where: CAIP Conference Room
First Floor, CoRE Building
Rutgers University Busch Campus
(directions: <http://www.caip.rutgers.edu>)

Who: Anyone interested in usability, democracy, web sites, public information

And... Free food, an interesting presentation, and a chance to talk with professionals in the Usability and User Experience field

This event is part of World Usability Day, a worldwide daylong event promoting awareness of the benefits of usability engineering and user-centered design. This year's focus is e-government, while also including commercial applications. The theme is "Making It Easy." See <http://worldusabilityday.org> for more information

UsabilityNJ is a chapter of the Usability Professionals' Association.
<http://www.usabilitynj.org>

Sponsors:

Center for Advanced
Information Processing